

Unlock the People Mystery

“How Am I Wired?”

iMAP (Individual Multi-Construct Assessment Profile) is a unique personality assessment that measures an individual’s intrinsic Motivation, Temperament, Influence, and Work Values.

Understanding the strengths and natural wiring of ourselves and others is key in establishing peak performance in work and life! The iMAP is a multi-construct assessment that measures a person’s Motivated Role, Temperament, Impact Style, and Work-Related Values. When we work within our natural wiring we are more productive, fulfilled, happier, and likely to live a longer, healthier life!

Through years of proven results, we have seen the iMAP help individuals and teams understand their individual and corporate strengths, as well as their natural points of conflict. This understanding helps create an atmosphere of alignment and focus so individuals and teams can go further, faster!

Who can benefit from the iMAP?

- You can benefit by gaining a clear understanding of your personal wiring, temperament, and impact style
- Your team can benefit by understanding who they are, who their teammates are, and how to effectively communicate
- Your company can benefit by taking underdeveloped teams and creating high performing teams

We all need reliable, accurate, and invaluable tools in our toolkit. If you are looking to grow a team, strengthen relationships, enhance communication, or resolve interpersonal conflict, the iMAP will do all of that, and so much more.

Contact info@TransitionStrategists.com to learn more.